PEFKEKT BOX

Sebastian Schager, Vienna 2012

PERFEKT BOX

A hybrid space, the core of which forms a 1,70 x 6 x 2,50m aluminium box housing 70 frames. Created in collaboration with the architects of Kohlmayr Lutter Knapp it is designed as a flexible unit whose contents will be evolving with every new exhibition. The concept not only answers design challenges such as best use of space, improved flexibility, ease of transformation and customized solutions but in itself becomes an ever changing object of art. The conceptual show- and exhibition room was nominated for the National Design Award of Austria and Germany in 2013 and 2014.

CV

Sebastian Schager (born 1984) has enrolled at the University of Vienna to study the history of the arts after having graduated from a college for graphic and communications design in 2007. The same year he founded PERFEKT WORLD with his partners. Next to his artistic and commercial work within PERFEKT WORLD operating as a art collective as well as a design agency he mainly focuses on curating and running a small gallery and showroom founded in 2013 (PERFEKT BOX) and the related Artists-in-Residence program at Viennese MuseumsQuartier.

In 2013 Sebastian Schager founded the screen print series PERFEKT PRINTS with artist and printmaker Andreas Nader which still is continued. The project brings together international art to young audiences and also seeks to dissolve barriers. All curative and creative activity is subject to the agenda of bolstering and promoting young art.

The art collective PERFEKT WORLD worked at the intersection of artistry and commercial performance, between advertisement and white cube. A constant transfer of aesthetics between both worlds is taking place. Commercial services are run through the filter of artistic - conceptional reflection which points out commercial aesthetics in artistic - sculptural works exceedingly. Commercially the group was predominantly booked by clients like Red Bull or Absolut Vodka to develop special solutions which lie between both worlds of art and commerce and manage to draw bridges between them. After nine years the group decided to discontinue to work together as a collective which ends a period of experiments and cooperations in different fields. Seemlessly Sebastian Schager started his work as a solo artist and continues his work as an independent curator.

In 2015 the gallery name has been changed to Jan arnold Gallery and is now run by Sebastian Schager and three other partys of curators. The same year Sebastian Schager was asked to curate MQ's Streetartpassage and which he still continues.

In 2016 Sebastian Schager founded ARTIS.LOVE combining his work in art as well as his work as a curator.

Regular exhibitional work as well as a variety of transdisciplinary projects is listed in the chronicle list given below.
